Madame Jardin

If you in your dreams see a green fertile island, untouched by tourism, where you still can find beaches without footprints, with warm turquoise water lapping the white sand and a pleasant tropical breeze gently rustling the coconut palms high above.....Then you dream about Grenada, a gem of an island.

Now imagine the flash of warm smiles on gentle faces, the lilting melody of a steel band and the chink of ice in a chilled glass.....

Close your eyes and see high mountains dressed with green rain forests waiting to be explored. Hear the sound of waterfalls crashing into deep pools, the haunting calls of wild birds in the trees and the chatter of monkeys.....

Imagine the colors and aromas of the markets, spices and fresh limes, mango and banana, breadfruit and green coconuts. The brightly-painted buses, spilling over with passengers and laden baskets.....

Imagine a city built by Frenchmen and Englishmen and enhanced by the skills and cultures of many lands. A city which cascades down the sides of green mountain slopes down to the still waters of the harbour.....

The beach in front

Just imagine the time and space to relax, where the only thing you will do quickly will be to make friends. The pleasures here are natural ones, offering the pure ecstasy of discovery to those who have grown tired of commercial pleasures. In Grenada you will find a gentle and hospitable people, but you will find no casinos, no amusement arcades, no neon-lit streets filled with night-time noise.....

And if you are a true adventurer, Grenada's mountains and rain forests are criss-crossed by tracks along which you may stop to have a bathe in hot springs. Here you can take pictures of beautiful waterfalls, giant tropical plants, jewel-coloured butterflies.....and see nutmeg and cinnamon, cloves and cocoa growing in rich fertile soil. Memories to carry home.

Imagine a beautiful beachfront villa, a spacious, delightful terrace where you can relax and enjoy the seascape while a soft breeze rivals your cold drink in making life pleasant, where the biggest problem you will face is whether to opt for the short trip down to the beach or simply take a dip in the swimming pool on the terrace.....

Imagine a lovely tropical evening on the terrace with your family and friends, the fireflies like small shooting stars among the treetops, soft music in the background, tempting whiffs from the grill...and the lights of St. George's in the distance...

ISLE OF SPICE

Imagine a chef who is taking care of all the cooking, who makes the food you want...perhaps you prefer to prepare your own food.....or you walk down to the beach to enjoy a pleasant evening at one of the best restaurants of the island....

Can you really afford not to treat yourself to all this???
